

Master of Laws (LL.M.)

Stetson University College of Law Master of Laws (LL.M.) degree programs are offered to students who have already received their first law degree at a law school accredited by the ABA or approved by the appropriate authority.

- Provides foreign LL.M. students with basic competency and practice in the legal profession

View website for additional information (<http://www.stetson.edu/law/international/llm/>)

Online LL.M. in Advocacy (<https://catalog.stetson.edu/law/master-law/online-advocacy-llm/>) (24 credits)

- Complete online in less than two years
- Taught by national leaders in advocacy education and practice
- For those interested in criminal law, civil law or teaching
- In-person workshops once or twice a year

View website for additional information (<http://www.stetson.edu/law/academics/advocacy/llm/>)

Online LL.M. in Elder Law (<https://catalog.stetson.edu/law/master-law/elder-law-llm/>) (25 credits)

- Complete online in less than two years
- Access to library resources and quarterly law practice webinars
- Partial scholarships available to select students
- Includes attendance at Stetson's annual Special Needs Trust conference as part of three-day in-person course

View website for additional information (<http://www.stetson.edu/law/academics/elder/llm/>)

LL.M. in International Law - Public and Private International Law (24 credits)

- Two semester, 24 to 26 credit program on Stetson's safe and friendly campus in Gulfport, Florida
- Two-week introduction to U.S law for foreign attorneys
- Curriculum that allows student to focus on classes of their interest in social justice, international environmental law, international business law, and the development of their legal skills
- Scholarships are available for outstanding students interested in international law

View website for additional information (<http://www.stetson.edu/law/international/llm/>)

LL.M. in American Legal Studies (<https://catalog.stetson.edu/law/master-law/international-law-llm/>) (28 credits)

- Two semester, 28 to 30 credit program on Stetson's safe and friendly campus in Gulfport, Florida
- Two-week introduction to U.S law for foreign attorneys
- Specified curriculum designed to focus on New York State bar tested courses