Master of Laws (LL.M.)

Stetson University College of Law offers Master of Laws (LL.M.) degree programs to students who have already received their first law degree at a law school accredited by the ABA or approved by the appropriate authority.

Online LL.M. in Advocacy

- Complete online in less than two years
- Taught by national leaders in advocacy education and practice
- For those interested in criminal law, civil law or teaching
- In-person workshops once or twice a year

View website for additional information (http://www.stetson.edu/law/academics/advocacy/llm)

Online LL.M. in Elder Law

- Complete online in less than two years
- Access to library resources and quarterly law practice webinars
- Partial scholarships available to select students
- Includes attendance at Stetson's annual Special Needs Trust conference as part of three-day in-person course

View website for additional information (http://www.stetson.edu/law/academics/elder/llm)

LL.M. in International Law

- Intensive one-year program in St. Petersburg/Gulfport, Florida
- Two-week introduction to U.S. law for foreign attorneys
- Coursework offered in international public law and private law
- Emphasis program available in International Business Law and International Environmental Law
- Externship opportunity in international law
- Alumni in more than 50 countries

View website for additional information (http://www.stetson.edu/law/international/llm)