School of Music

Mission
The School of Music is committed to teaching students to...

- become critical thinkers, effective leaders and literate, competent musicians;
- exhibit significant proficiency in areas of specialization, developed through individualized study;
- work collaboratively with faculty and peers in experiences centered on student needs, goals and aspirations;
- embrace enriching life values and ethical practices; and
- practice individual responsibility for lifelong learning and for supporting and participating in the arts, artistic endeavors and artistic entities.

Goals and Methods
The School of Music is an undergraduate professional school committed to a cohesive, rigorous curriculum and a supportive environment which prepares students for successful careers and graduate study in music. Encouraging intellectual, cultural, artistic, professional and social growth, the School of Music is a community centered on ethical practices and mentoring. The School of Music offers musical opportunities and experiences to all university students and maintains a positive, intellectually and artistically challenging working environment for faculty. The School of Music is committed to making a significant contribution to the cultural life of the University, as well as to local and global communities.

Admission
In addition to general University admission requirements and academic regulations, an audition/interview is required of all School of Music applicants. Contact the Music Admissions Counselor for audition and interview appointments (music@stetson.edu). See the Audition Guidelines tab above for information on the level of proficiency expected of entering music majors. Under special circumstances, some students may be admitted “music major only.” Students so admitted who wish later to enter the College of Arts & Sciences or School of Business Administration must meet specific academic requirements.

Music Scholarships
Music scholarships are available to talented and promising students. Please contact the Music Admissions Recruiter for an audition. A student need not major or minor in music in order to receive a music scholarship, though participation in ensembles is crucial to ongoing financial awards of this kind.

Basic Curriculum
The curriculum for all music majors consists of three primary elements: general education, core music courses, and a selection of classes designed for the specific major. Generally, the curriculum contains courses that focus on developing fundamental music skills in the freshman and sophomore years, allowing for deeper study in major-specific coursework in the final years of study. All music majors must take certain basic courses, including the music core (see specific degree requirements below) and the foundation general education courses (a First Year Seminar, taken in the first semester, a quantitative reasoning course, and students must fulfill the university-wide writing requirement consisting of the completion of 4 Writing Enhanced courses along the course of the degree completion). At the end of the sophomore year, each student's record is reviewed by the faculty to determine eligibility for junior status; students must pass a sophomore decision jury at that time in order to be eligible for upper division study in their performance area. An oral competency examination is also taken at the sophomore decision jury, which must be passed or replaced by taking an approved oral communications class. All students complete a senior recital or a senior project specific to their major.

Recitals
Music majors must appear in general student recitals at least once each semester, with the exception of the first term in residence, in addition to presenting a solo recital in the senior year. Certain majors also require a solo recital in the junior year. For students majoring in composition, composition study is considered to be applied music instruction; therefore, any composition major must arrange for the performance of his/her composition in general student recital once a semester, with the exception of the first term in residence.

Ensembles
Music majors must participate in the ensemble program during each semester of residence. All students enrolled in applied music courses are expected to participate concurrently in a major ensemble. Students with scholarship awards may be assigned participation in ensembles beyond the minimum requirement of their curriculum.

Computer Lab in the School of Music
The computer lab in the School of Music is located on the second floor of Presser Hall. While hours of operation may vary, the lab is generally open from 7 a.m.-1 a.m. Use of the 14 computer stations is restricted to students currently enrolled in classes at Stetson University. Each station has current software for most computing needs, including Sibelius for music notation, Logic, and the Microsoft Office suite.

Music Library Resources
The School of Music library holdings are found in the north side, main floor of the duPont-Ball Library. Significant printed resource materials, as well as over 11,000 recordings, 14,000 scores, and 45 current periodical titles are enhanced by vast electronic resources and services. Most books, scores, videos, and physical recordings are available for temporary loan to all faculty and students. Most recitals and concerts are streamed live and archived for Stetson students and other personnel.

Unit Requirements for a Degree
Although each degree within the Music School requires the completion of prescribed courses, which may total from 32 to 36 units, it is possible for students to reduce the number of courses by showing competency in some areas through exemption exams. Regardless of placement by competency exams, all students must post a minimum of 32 units (128 credits) for graduation.
Progress Toward Degree Completion

Faculty members in the School of Music require that students make sufficient progress toward completion of their degree. Sufficient progress is determined by a student's adherence to all Stetson University and School of Music policies and by the student receiving an appropriate passing grade in all registered courses, and maintaining an overall GPA of 2.0. Music Education students take specific courses requiring specific passing grades in addition to these policies. Music majors and minors are allowed to attempt each MUSC or MUSX course two times only. If both attempts to complete a course are not successful, whether through failure or withdrawal, it is possible for the student to appeal to the Dean for an exception to this rule. Appeals will be considered only when based on circumstances beyond the control of the student or other exceptional circumstances.

Audition Guidelines

Guitar

Candidates for guitar study should be able to play all major and minor scales (Segovia Edition), play studies corresponding in difficulty to those of Sor, Carcassi, and Brouwer; and perform two contrasting solo works from memory. Candidates will be asked to sight-read provided exercises and should have a knowledge of the rudiments of music. The audition also includes an examination on basic music theory and aural training.

Organ

Candidates for organ study should be able to play organ works such as the Eight “Little” Preludes and Fugues of Bach, chorale preludes from Bach’s Orgelbuchlein, the chorale preludes of Brahms, Op. 122, or works of comparable difficulty. Alternatively, proficient pianists with a desire to study organ should demonstrate proficiency by satisfactorily performing Two-Part Inventions of Bach, Sonatas by Beethoven or Mozart, or works of comparable difficulty. Strong potential should be demonstrated in aural training. The audition also includes an examination on basic music theory and aural training.

Percussion

Candidates for percussion study should bring their own sticks, mallets, and music. Candidates should know all major scales (minors preferred as well), and be prepared to sight read on mallets and snare drum. The music chosen and prepared for the audition should represent the candidate’s current playing ability on mallets (two and/or four mallets), snare drum (a concert solo or etude is required, additional rudimental solo optional), and timpani (tuning required). Performance on any other instrument in the percussion family, including drum set, is encouraged, but not required. The audition also includes an examination on basic music theory and aural training.

Piano

Candidates for piano study should have acquired systematic methods of practice and be able to play all major and minor scales and arpeggios, including dominant and diminished sevenths in moderately rapid tempo. Works corresponding in difficulty to the Sonatas of Clementi, Haydn, Mozart, and Beethoven should have been studied. Repertoire for the audition should include:

2. A movement from a classical Sonata (for example, Clementi, Haydn, Mozart, or Beethoven.)
3. A work from either the 19th or 20th centuries.

Audition material must be performed from memory. Candidates should be prepared to sight-read and/or demonstrate scales and arpeggios. The audition also includes an examination on basic music theory and aural training. Candidates should bring a printed page with a list of piano repertoire studied for the past few years. Candidates should also bring a printed resumé listing musical activities and other activities or accomplishments.

The audition also includes an examination on basic music theory and aural training.

Voice
Candidates for voice study must prepare two contrasting selections in English, Italian, French, German, or Spanish with Classical technique, including good diction, correct phrasing, and musical intelligence. Audition material must be performed from memory. Students will be asked to sight-sing two or three brief lines of music as well as demonstrate other musicianship capabilities through basic rhythmic, ear training, and keyboard skill examples. An accompanist and rehearsal session will be provided upon request at no charge. A copy of the music must be provided for the accompanist. No taped accompaniments will be allowed. The audition also includes an examination on basic music theory and aural training.

MUED 259. Vocal Techniques for Instrumentalists. 0.5 Units.
This course is specifically designed to prepare music education majors who have an instrumental background to work with vocal and choral music education students in public schools. The course will focus on the principles of vocal technique, vocal pedagogy, diction, and improvisation as they apply to choral settings. Topics will include but are not limited to the development of the child’s and adolescent’s voice, selecting appropriate music for those voices, the problem of vocal abuse, the rationales behind group vocal warm-up practices, appropriate rehearsal techniques, and performance practices.
Prerequisite: MUED 265 with grade of C or higher or admission to Outside Field in Teacher Pre-Certification. Offered spring semesters.
Requires off-campus travel to public schools in counties near Stetson’s DeLand campus.
MUED 260. Instrumental Techniques for Vocalists I. 0.5 Units.
This course is specifically designed to prepare music education majors who have a vocal background to work with instrumental music education students in public schools and is the first course of a two-course sequence. The focus of this course will be a survey or overview of the woodwind, brass, percussion, and string instruments commonly played in the band and orchestra. Students will study the unique sounds characterizing each instrument and how that sound is produced, developing perception and discrimination of the acoustical properties of the instruments, the correct formation of the embouchure for the brasses and woodwinds, the techniques of bowing string instruments, proper approaches to percussion instruments, and the physical attributes required to successfully perform on instruments in general. The ability to successfully produce a sound and perform at a basic level on various representative instruments is a required outcome. Prerequisite: MUED 265 with a grade of C or higher or admission to Outside Field in Teacher Pre-Certification. Offered spring semesters. Requires off-campus travel to public schools in counties near Stetson’s DeLand campus.

MUED 261. Instrumental Techniques for Vocalists II. 0.5 Units.
This course is specifically designed to prepare music education majors who have a vocal background to work with instrumental music education students in public schools and is the second course of a two-course sequence. In this course students will apply the skills and knowledge that they acquired in MUED 260 to a beginning band and/ or beginning orchestra setting as well as to rehearsal and performance practice for more advanced performers. Topics will include but are not limited to approaches for teaching beginning instrumentalists in group lesson settings, choosing appropriate literature for young instrumentalists, and rehearsing and conducting for performances that include instrumentalists and vocalists. Students will continue to work on their ability to perform on instruments at a basic level. Prerequisite: MUED 265 with grade of C or higher or admission to Outside Field in Teacher Pre-Certification. Requires off-campus travel to public schools in counties near Stetson’s DeLand campus.
